

'QUALITY DRAMA'

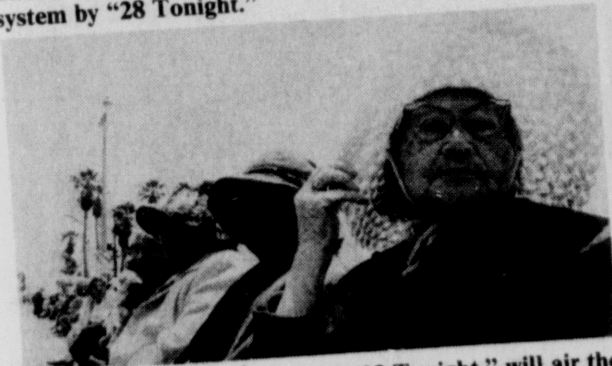

Drama—and lots of it—will highlight the fall schedule on KCET, Channel 28.

First, there's the venerable "Hollywood Television Theatre" series, which will kick off its season Thursday, September 16, at 9PM with Julie Harris starring as the mentally deteriorating widow of Abraham Lincoln in "The Last of Mrs. Lincoln." Norman Lloyd, executive producer of "Hollywood Television Theatre," has also gathered such stars as Andy Griffith, John Houseman and Eva Marie Saint to appear in productions ranging from "Six Characters in Search of an Author" (September 23) to "The Fatal Weakness" (September 30) to "Philemon" (October 7).

Other drama during the fall will include the four-part "Madame Bovary" from "Masterpiece Theatre," beginning Sunday, October 10 at 9PM, and Eugene O'Neill's "Ah Wilderness" on "Great Performances" Wednesday, October 13, at 9PM.

Television writer Robert Dellinger returns to the yard of Terminal Island Federal Prison to talk with inmates and teach the writing class he started as a prisoner. Dellinger is the subject of a KCET documentary "Words Within Walls" airing Monday, August 30, at 7:30PM on KCET, Channel 28, as part of a look at crime and the prison system by "28 Tonight."

In observance of Yom Kippur, "28 Tonight," will air the Lynne Littman's poignant film on a remarkable community of elderly Jews in Venice.

"In Performance at Wolf Trap" returns Monday, September 20, at 9PM with Beverly Sills in "La Traviata." Andre Kostelanetz and Yehudi Menuhin, jazz greats Dizzy Gillespie and Billy Eckstine, and ballet artist Mikhail Baryshnikov are other stars appearing in the series.

Local documentaries will be featured on KCET's weeknight news series, "28 Tonight," hosted by Cleve Roberts. For example, in connection with the observance of Yom Kippur, Channel 28 will air on Monday, October 4 at 7:30PM Lynne Littman's poignant film on a remarkable community of elderly but rebellious Jews in Venice.

Friday nights will continue to be devoted to public affairs programs, with "The MacNeil/Lehrer Report" at 7PM, followed by "28 Tonight," "Washington Week in Review," "Wall Street Week," and "USA: People and Politics."

Charlotte Stewart, who stars as the very prim and proper spinster school teacher on NBC's Little House on the Prairie (Wednesdays at 9PM) is really a curvy young actress who knows very little about teaching or about Minnesota. Actually she's a third generation Californian who was born and raised in the same house as her mother and grandmother.
