

PLAY REVIEW

Day-Dream Addict

By RAY DUNCAN

The bad dreams of a good girl are acted out in a play called "Dream Girl." It is getting a rousing though rough-edged student production this week in the Little Path Theater at Pasadena Playhouse...

Dream-girl Charlotte Stewart plies her towdry trade on reluctant passer-by Mark Thompson.

This was one of the first and lightest and best of the current wave of psychological plays. Its heroine is a day-dream addict...

She arranges in fantasy, for the death of her mother and for a much closer warmer tie with her father...

All this is accomplished while she sits alone, lost in reverie. Gene de Wit directed this production with great ingenuity...

formed by persons who are at the best possible age for love. The play is remarkable in providing one of the best answers ever given to the classic question, "What ever made you take up the life of a prostitute?"

PASADENANS PLAYING IN L. A. 'MAGIC'

Three Pasadenans have prominent roles in the Los Angeles State College production of "Greensleeves Magic," to be presented in the campus theater this weekend.

William Denman, R. Paul Munoz and Alex Mestas are featured in the play for children. Denman is a Pasadena City College graduate...

'Drainpipe Disaster' Due Here

"Disaster at Drainpipe Junction," a musical melodrama, will be presented at two locations in Pasadena this weekend. It will be given Friday night at 8:30 in the Casita del Arroyo building...

Several performers from "Theater Americana's" recent hit, "The Drunkard," are taking part in this production sponsored by the DeMolay Mother's Circle.

Hertha Parry is directing, assisted by Cricket Goff, and the performers include Zane Miller, Villa Roberts, John Keating, S. H. Biedbach, John Northrup, Heather and Camille McFarland, David Wilcox and others.

Movie Menu

Several couples are in love, or in trouble, or both, in movies now on Pasadena screens. Among them are, at top, Horst Buchholz and Shari in "Tiger Bay," now at the Crown Theater with "The Hustler," held over for a second week...

MAM MIME - Lotte Goslar, dance pantomimist and creative clown, brings her troupe of dancers, singers and silent actors to the Pasadena Playhouse for one performance on Monday night at 8:30.

Home Movies May Have Some Use After All

HOLLYWOOD - Wm. Don't Harlow, Will Rogers, Douglas Fairbanks Sr. and Mary Pickford, among others. Comedian Ken Murray has discovered that his old home movies dating back to 1927, are a gold mine.

Murray is preparing "Hollywood, My Home Town," a collection of movie stars at home and play, all taken by Murray during the past 34 years.

'La Ronde' Readings Ready at Playhouse

A new season of concert readings of famous plays at Pasadena Playhouse starts Sunday in the new Playbox Theater.

Kent, Terry Beason, Margo Warbery, Jack Woodruff, Charlotte Fletcher and Ralph Barnard. Mary Green is directing, assisted by Roberta Reeves.

The concert readings are a rendering of the drama by players grouped around rosters, without conventional settings or props or costumes.

The all-professional cast for "La Ronde" will include Ruth Vaughn, Jim Kent, Wendy Aberdeen, James Clark, Helen

COLEMAN SERIES SEASON TICKETS PRO-RATA

Pro-rata season tickets for the remaining six events of the Coleman Chamber Concerts at the Pasadena Playhouse are available through the Coleman office at 46 N. Los Robles Ave.

Two Italian groups, the Quintetto Chigiano and the Quartetto di Roma, are next in the series, followed by the Czech Smetana Quartet, and the New York Pro Musica.
